State Commission Heralds Washington as the Authentic Home of James Bowie's World-Famous Fighting Knife

State-Wide Story on Washington

By JOHN HEUSTON
Travel Writer, Arkansas
Publicity and Parks Commission

THE AMERICAN ARMS COLLECTOR IN ITS INITIAL issue January 1957 reported the above as the "Type of knife selected by Colonel Bowie for Texas troops. Presented to Don

Lake Village Seeks Funds for a Dam

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP)—Officials in this Southeast Arkansas community are seeking about $300,000 to build a dam to save the southern end of Lake Chicot from being ruined by flood.

The dam would be built across Macon Lake, which collects drainage water from several thousand acres and empties into Lake Chicot. The dam would divert the drainage water into two streams that bypass the lake, Bayou Macon and Beaufort River.

Officials said at a meeting Wednesday night they hope to get the money from the state Game and Fish Commission, but if they cannot, they will raise it locally.

They claim that the mud has ruined the southern end of the lake for fishing and recreation purposes and that merchants in the area have suffered a $500,000 revenue loss.

The commission said last week that the upper portion of the lake, where the Lake Chicot State Park lies, is clear. Gov. Orval E. Faubus has said it appears as if the state will have to help the officials.

wards bears a striking resemblance to the famous Don Augustine Barrera knife, designed by Bowie and modeled after his knife, to be mass-produced for Texas troops. The January, 1957, issue of the American Arms Collector has a picture of this knife. It is almost exactly like Edwards' knife, even to the curved deer horn handle.

One cannot visit Washington without being touched by the magic of the Bowie Knife. As one gazes into the museum case at the glittering, deadly blade, all the excitement of James Bowie and his era comes back. One can then understand English historian Thomas Carlyle's enthusiasm when, in an outburst of admiration for Bowie, he exclaimed:

"By Hercules! The man was greater than Caesar or Cromwell — nay, nearly equal to Odin or Thor! The Texans ought to build him an altar!"

Arkansas has its altar to Bowie and James Black... Old Washington.

New Workers Result of State Survey

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Legislative Council committee has recommended that the state Health Department be provided more employees to inspect nursing homes in the state.

The council's Public Health and Welfare Committee recommended that the council ask the legislature to provide the extra employees.

The report grew out of a spot check committee members made on nine nursing homes in Central Arkansas May 20-21.

The committee also recommended that every nursing home be required to provide daily visits by a registered nurse, who would check patients and supervise dispensing of drugs.

Another recommendation was that patients be assured that a doctor will be available to treat them when necessary. The committee also asked for a study on the possibility of segregated mentally retarded patients from other patients, and that State Hospital personnel make frequent visits to these patients.

The committee found few renumber of patients apparent-creational facilities but said a number of patients apparently do not use those they have.

A number of nursing homes are not fire resistant, the report said. It recommended that the legislature establish a deadline for complying with fire regulations, with revocation of licenses the penalty of homes do not comply.

Influence of China in Congo Grows

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special correspondent

Red Chinese influence is growing in the former French Congo. Peking agents seem intent on transforming it into a base for revolution in central and west Africa.

Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, provides headquarters for what seems to be a mastermind committee of the rebellion in the other Congo, to the east, against the Leopoldville government.

Red China may see bright prospects for the spread of revolutionary violence from seeds planted in the two Congos. Portuguese Angola to the south is a prime target.

Rebels holding a large chunk of the eastern area of Leopoldville Congo, including the city of Stanleyville, refer to their forces as "The People's Liberation Army." The Red Chinese apply the same name to their army.

Evidently, the anti-Leopoldville uprising gets significant help from Brazzaville, an important transport hub for all central Africa. It is headquarters for an organization called the National Council for Liberation of the Congo. This group issues communiques on the progress of rebellion in the neighboring Congo, and describes itself as devoted to "Lumumbism."

Patrice Lumumba, a pro-Communist premier of Leopoldville, was murdered in 1961. Premier Moise Tshombe in Leopoldville complained this week of "interference from certain foreign countries in the service of Communist China, such as Brazzaville Congo and Burundi." Burundi is to the east of Leopoldville Congo.

And once again Buddhists were agitating against the government, charging — as they did before the overthrow last year of the Diem regime — that their faith is being oppressed.

The students and Buddhists are clamoring for a return of civilian government, but U.S. officials believe that any further change would set back the war effort.

Integration Goes Quietly at Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Desegregation came quietly to this capital city's public school system.

Forty-three Negro children signed up Thursday to attend first-grade classes in eight previously all-white elementary schools.

However, over-all registration was lower than expected. At the all-Negro schools, only 567 first-graders registered although officials had forecast an enrollment of 1,800.

Registration of white pupils was also down, with 1,705 enrollments out of an expected 2,000. School authorities and civil rights leaders said they had no explanation for the decrease.

With the four-hour registration period, Jackson — the state's largest city — became the second public school system in Mississippi to desegregate under federal court orders. Seventeen Negroes enrolled last week at formerly all-white schools at Biloxi.

Two other school systems face desegregation this fall. Leake County and Clarksdale will integrate first grade classes in September and Clarksdale will drop racial barriers in the second grade in February.

No Negroes have actually attended classes with whites under the integration order. Negroes only registered here and at Biloxi. Classes begin here Sept. 14 while Biloxi schools open Aug. 31.

Mississippi was the last state to lower racial barriers in its tax-supported educational facilities below the college level.

Taylor Coming Home to Report on Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid reports of new troubles in South Viet Nam, the administration has announced that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor is returning home for consultations and to report in depth to President Johnson.

But officials insisted his return from Saigon was not to be taken as an indication any crisis was afoot.

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is to arrive Aug. 30. He may testify before congressional committees.

Taylor may be stepping from one hot seat to another, for the conduct of the Vietnamese war is flaring into one of the big issues of the presidential campaign.

Taylor, the nation's top ranking military man before being assigned to Saigon, is expected to spend four days in Washington. Part of the reason for his trip, officials said, was that Taylor wanted to deal with some personal affairs.

In the background, however, were new Vietnamese military reverses in the jungle and angry Buddhist demonstrations in the streets.

The view expressed here is that now that Taylor has had six weeks to study the situation in South Viet Nam, it is important he report on the problems directly to Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Officials said he is not expected to ask more U.S. help for the Saigon regime.

Since taking over in Saigon early in July, Taylor has seen a swift march of events.

The tempo of the war has increased, the United States has sent retaliatory air strikes against North Vietnamese PT boats and their bases, and South Vietnamese strongman Nguyen Khanh has moved to tighten his grip on the government.

In so doing, he displaced popular Maj. Gen. Doung Van Minh as chief of state and stirred the wrath of students and Buddhists.

While Red ambushers killed another American serviceman Friday, student leaders addressed rallies in major cities denouncing Khanh's regime as a dictatorship.

And once again Buddhists were agitating against the government, charging — as they did before the overthrow last year of the Diem regime — that their faith is being oppressed.

The students and Buddhists are clamoring for a return of civilian government, but U.S. officials believe that any further change would set back the war effort.

Two Hurt in Car, Scooter Collision

Yesterday on North Hervey near the underpass an auto driven by Julia Dixon of Washington pulled into the path of a motor scooter and the resulting collision put two local youths in the hospital, City Police said.

The boys on the scooter were Kenneth Madlock who suffered cuts and bruises and Larry Toner who sustained a broken leg. Officers charged the Washington woman with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Gambling City Liked Beatles

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Beatles head for Seattle today after proving this gambling city isn't just an adult playground.

Sixteen thousand screaming teenagers mobbed two performances by the quartet Thursday night at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Despite the din, Beatle John Lennon said later: "The kids in some other cities we've been to."

Security-minded authorities met the Beatles' plane and hustled the quartet down back stairs in sheriff's cars with lights off.

Rights Law Called Blot on Nation

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called the civil rights law a blot on the nation Thursday night and said it was causing a disintegration of harmony and good will.

McClellan spoke at a meeting of the Arkansas County Judges Association, at which he received an award "for dedicated and faithful service in representing the citizens of Arkansas in an honorable and worthwhile manner."

McClellan also said Congress is spending too much money, but he defended expenditures for the Arkansas River program and Mississippi River flood control projects as investments in the future of the nation.

"Although I believe in economy," he said, "I also believe in investments."

Judge R. D. Howell of Pope County, president of the association, presented the award to McClellan.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus also spoke at the meeting, telling the judges that the main objective of his sixth term, if he is re-elected, will be development of a rural road program.

Faubus said, he would work with the judges in planning the program before presenting it to the legislature.

Earlier in the meeting, the judges voted 19-18 to hear Winthrop Rockefeller as well as Faubus at their Sept. 25 meeting in Little Rock.

Mayor Ben Butler of Osceola announced during the meeting that the Osceola Shoe Co. would spend $80,000 to $100,000 in its second expansion since it was established in 1958.

The plant employs 425 persons.

Woman Cigar Smoker Can't Be Bothered

By JAMES CALOGERO
BOSTON (AP)—Miss Rosemary O'Brien, red haired and blue eyed, sat across the dinner table in a Boston restaurant and said, "There's nothing like a fine cigar," as she put a panatella to her soft, full lips.

The reaction was immediate, but Miss O'Brien paid little attention.

"When you've been smoking cigars as I have for four years, you get accustomed to having other women look at you in disbelief," said Miss O'Brien.

"Strangely, women aren't as shocked as the men when I smoke my cigars in public. The men appear to be absolutely dumbfounded. In public, I constantly hear one man whisper to another 'Do you see what I see?'"

Miss O'Brien, in her early 30s and a resident of Kenmore Avenue, Chicago, came to Boston as an unwanted delegate to the fourth annual national convention of the Cigar Smokers of America, meeting today and Saturday.

The national organization — made up of humidorists in eight cities — would rather not have women as members.

Miss O'Brien is in the unique position of having helped found the Chicago Humidor and expand its membership to more than 160.

"What's wrong with women?" asked Miss O'Brien, who stands 5 feet 5 and says she measures 37-26-35.

"I smoke up to 10 cigars a day and like to be with men who smoke cigars. A lot of women are now taking up cigar smoking."

Miss O'Brien says she started smoking cigars when she playfully took a puff of a cigar her date was smoking as they drove in a car.

"I enjoyed it," she said, "and I've been smoking cigars since that night four years ago."

Senate Battle Shaping Up in New York

By JOHN MORGANTHALER

NEW YORK (AP)—The race for U.S. senator from New York shaped up today as Democrat Robert F. Kennedy against Republican incumbent Kenneth B. Keating.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, the state's leading Democrat, endorsed Kennedy Friday.

The attorney general, 38, who lives in Virginia and votes in Massachusetts, was expected to come to New York early next week to announce his candidacy. He reportedly already has selected top campaign aides and a public relations agency.

Wagner's endorsement practically assured Kennedy of the nomination at the state Democratic convention Sept. 1. Kennedy is expected to delay his resignation as attorney general until then.

After the mayor's statement, all but one of Kennedy's announced challengers dropped out. That one, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, an upstart from Amsterdam, has promised a floor fight. He contends Kennedy is ineligible as a non-resident.

Kennedy is expected to move to New York soon, to satisfy the constitutional requirement of residency "at the time of his election."

When he announced his candidacy earlier in the week, Keating humorously started by telling reporters he would not be a candidate for the Senate — from Massachusetts.

Keating has taken opposition for the nomination at the Republican state convention Aug. 31. Rep. Paul A. Fino of the Bronx says he will oppose the senator because Keating has not endorsed the GOP national ticket, headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The state GOP organization leadership, however, is behind Keating, and the national organization has not opposed him.

The Conservative party of New York, which broke away from the GOP a few years ago, is expected to field a candidate against Keating and Kennedy.

Clare Boothe Luce, former congresswoman from Connecticut and former ambassador to Italy, said she is considering accepting such a nomination, but will make up her mind next week. The conservatives also hold a state convention Aug. 31.

Encephalitis Outbreak Brings Spray

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Emergency forces sprayed ditches today after officials alerted the city of an outbreak of encephalitis, believed to have caused 12 deaths in the past month.

Mayor Louie Welch declared war Thursday on the female culex mosquito whose bite causes the disease, which is also known as "sleeping sickness."

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, said about 100 cases of the disease have been reported in a 30-day period. He said a majority of the cases were in the near downtown area but other scattered cases were north and east of the infected area.

Pest control firms were called into an emergency meeting by Welch to organize a city-wide battle against the mosquito.

Experts from the communicable disease control center of the U.S. Public Health Service in Atlanta, Ga., were to arrive today to advise Dr. Pigford and other health authorities on emergency measures.

The spraying of ditches will continue until the whole city has been covered. The city appropriated $5,000 to start the spraying operations.

Dr. Pigford said the disease is carried to humans only by the blood-sucking female mosquito, which is abroad from dusk to dark.

"Most cases of encephalitis by far, recover," Dr. Pigford said. He said many patients recover even after they reach the critical stage.

He said danger signs are extremely high fever, followed by drowsiness, severe headache, stiff neck disturbance of the eye muscle and occasional mental disorder.

Dominican Jails 7 Union Leaders

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominican authorities have arrested seven union leaders in an effort which has idled 6,000 drivers of public transport in this capital city.

The Federation of Christian Unions had called a strike of workers in the stores and factories of Santiago, this country's second largest city. The strike started Monday and has spread to stores, factories and the capital's transport system.

The strike started as a protest against a government measure which almost doubles employer and employee contributions to social security funds. The transport drivers are striking because of an increase in gasoline taxes.

Problems on Platform Are Plentiful

By ARTHUR EDSON

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — If you want to learn how difficult we taxpayers are to please drop in on a meeting of a political platform committee.

Problems, problems, everybody has problems. The Democrats moved in from Washington Thursday — this may be the only itinerant platform committee in history — to continue hewing, planing and sanding the party planks.

And by breaking up into three panels, they managed to hear about such questions as: Why must the tax on women's handbags be continued? Why does the government call handbags a luxury when every woman knows they're a necessity? What about the Supreme Court and prayers in public schools?

And did you know the number of post offices in this country is decreasing alarmingly? The national convention opens Monday.

Sometime between now and early next week the Democrats must come up with a platform that they hope will take into account everyone's worries, will appeal to all and will offend nobody.

To see how difficult this is, let's drop in on Panel 1. It's galloping through foreign policy, immigration, national defense and the Constitution, which is a fairly large gallop.

Charles W. Winegarner, representing the Citizens Congressional Committee of Los Angeles, has the podium. He says his committee is made up of "numerous groups concerned with the fact that a recent Supreme Court decision has, for all practical purposes, outlawed the right of our children to experience devotions in public schools."

Winegarner wants a constitutional amendment that would, in effect, nullify the court's decision. But Franklin C. Salisbury also is here; representing the Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, usually called simply by the initials POAU. He says of those who would amend the Constitution on this point: "Their sincerity is matched by their lack of memory, their ignorance of history, and their unwillingness to think the problem through."

Now on to Panel 2, which worries over economy, business, labor, agriculture and natural resources. And of course, women's handbags. This tax was put on during the war and several witnesses said it's time it was dropped. Here there was no opposition, at least publicly.

Panel 3 looks after health, education, welfare, urban affairs and government operations.

Strategy Strikes Pole Refugees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four years ago, four Polish refugees met in Germany, all planning to come to the United States.

One of them, Andrew Starnowski, married Gizele, the only girl in the group.

Thursday, police said, Jerzy Burczyk, third of the four, found Starnowski, 27, had shot himself to death in his apartment in suburban Playa Del Rey.

Burczyk told police that three weeks ago Gizele had gone away with her husband's best friend, John J. Lewandowski — fourth of the four refugees.

Great Lakes Water Levels at Record Low

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP) — The prosperous Great Lakes region, playland and workland of the Midwest, is suffering a multi-million-dollar thirst. Water levels are at record lows.

The lack of water, attributed to subnormal precipitation since 1960, has boosted the cost of shipping, reduced property values, and killed off wildlife and fishing.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers recently added to the gloom when it predicted that water levels would continue to drop at least until 1965. The engineers said only Lake Superior will not be drastically affected.

Water levels dipped sharply this summer. Lakes Michigan and Huron now have their lowest levels since records were started in 1860, and Lakes Ontario and Erie levels are close to 30-year-old records.

The problems caused by lower water levels are painfully obvious to tourists and lakeside dwellers. Beaches are longer — often it's a challenge to wade into water deep enough for swimming — and docks and piers are exposed to rot and decay.

Receding shore lines have ruined thousands of acres that once were natural habitats for wildlife. Game officials say the whole wildlife chain has been disrupted in the Great Lakes.

Higher rates have lost some shipping business.

Corn from Iowa and Illinois no longer is shipped on the Great Lakes. Now it is diverted to New Orleans and other Gulf of Mexico ports.

Albert J. Meserow of Chicago, head of the Great Lakes Commission, estimates the loss to shipping and recreational interests this year will total about $100 million.

Governor to Be Honored at Chaffee

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) —

Gov. Orval E. Faubus and a crowd of municipal officials will visit Ft. Chaffee Saturday to observe Arkansas National Guardsmen in summer training action.

With Faubus will be mayors of Jonesboro, Heber Springs, Stuttgart and Monticello, cities in which many of the guardsmen who are training here this week live.

Maj. Gen. Teddy H. Sanford, Chaffee commander, will meet the group at Arkansas National Guard headquarters and escort them to Chaffee, where a parade and a luncheon are planned.

In the parade will be men from the 875th Engineer Battalion of Jonesboro, the 172nd Engineer Co. of Heber Springs, the 22nd Engineer Co. of Stuttgart and the 404th Ordnance Co.

Claims Ruby Didn't Even Know Oswald

NEW YORK (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is quoted as having told Jack Ruby on June 7: "There has been no witness before this (Warren) Commission... who has claimed to have any personal knowledge that you were a party to any conspiracy to kill our president."

The New York Journal-American reported Thursday that Warren made that statement to Ruby in an interview at the Dallas County Jail after Ruby insisted in a rambling appeal that "there was no conspiracy."

The exchange came in the third and final copyrighted installment of a 102-page interpretation of Ruby, which Journal-American columnist Dorothy Kilgallen said she obtained "through sources close to the commission in Washington."

Ruby has been convicted of first-degree murder for shooting Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy, last Nov. 24 in the basement of the Dallas jail. Oswald was a self-described Marxist.

At the start of the final installment, Ruby is quoted as saying to Warren:

"There is a certain organization in this area that has been indoctrinated, that I am the one that was in the plot to assassinate our president."

"Would you tell us what this is?" he asked.

"The John Birch Society," Ruby said, referring to the organization dedicated to opposing what it calls Communist subversion in this country.

Ruby said several times he was convinced that he was being made a scapegoat because he is Jewish and that his own life and those of his brothers were in danger.

In the first installment in the newspaper, Ruby was quoted as saying he killed Oswald on the spur of the moment, to spare Mrs. John F. Kennedy the ordeal of returning to Dallas for Oswald's trial.

The testimony Warren took from Ruby at the jail is expected to be part of the commission's report, to be issued sometime next month.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Ruby reportedly told the Warren Commission he never knew Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's accused assassin, and that his compassion for the president's widow led him to kill Oswald.

That information came from the New York Journal-American, which is publishing under copyright a 102-page transcript of a three-hour interrogation of Ruby by Chief of Justice Earl Warren in Dallas last June 7.

The account is written under the byline of columnist Dorothy Kilgallen, who said she obtained the transcript "through sources close to the commission in Washington."

In Wednesday's second installment, Ruby is quoted as saying of his shooting Oswald:

"Of why that Sunday morning — that thought never entered my mind prior to that Sunday morning when I took it upon myself to try to be a martyr or some screwball, you might say."

"But I felt very emotional and very carried away from (sic) Mrs. Kennedy, that with all the strife she had gone through — I had been following it pretty well — that someone owed it to our beloved president that she shouldn't be expected to come back to face trial of this heinous crime. And I have never had a chance to tell that, to back it up, to prove it. Consequently I am being victimized as part of a plot in the world's worst tragedy and crime at this moment."

In the transcript, Warren repeatedly asked Ruby if he knew Oswald prior to the shooting. Ruby is quoted as saying:

"I never knew Lee Harvey Oswald. The first time I ever have seen him was the time in the assembly room when they brought him out, when he had some sort of shiner on his eye."

Just a few hours after President Kennedy was killed, Ruby mingled with newsmen in the assembly room of Dallas police headquarters and saw Oswald.

Oswald, formally accused of the Nov. 22 assassination of the president, was slain during a routine jail transfer two days later.

Ruby was sentenced to death for Oswald's murder in a trial that ended March 14. His attorneys pleaded he was insane.

"Do you talk baby talk like Herb Peters?"

"DEAR ABBY"

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Correct me if I'm wrong, but in a funeral procession, aren't blood relatives supposed to ride in the first car immediately following the hearse? And in cases where there are a number of married blood relatives, aren't all the husbands and wives supposed to ride in the cars behind all the blood relatives? I am a daughter of the deceased, and was in the FIFTH car, riding behind sisters-in-law and brothers-in-law, and I want to know if this was proper.

BOILING OVER

Dear Boiling: You must have a very low boiling point. In my opinion, married couples belong together at a funeral in order to comfort and console one another. And if funeral protocol states otherwise, I am sure every undertaker in the country will lay me out promptly.

Dear Abby: I am 23, unmarried and pregnant. I have gone steady with this man for a year. He is the father, but he doubts it. He knows very well that I haven't even had coffee with another man since I started going with him. He is divorced and could marry me, but he told me he never intends to marry again. I know I was foolish to get so involved with him, but it's too late now.

Is there some way I can prove that he's the father? They say blood tests won't hold up in court. I can't afford a lawyer anyway. Is there a home for unwed mothers in the L. A. area that will take me? (I've had one illegitimate baby before. Will that matter? Let me know through your column, Abby. I can't get mail at home as there is no privacy here. Sign me — UNLUCKY

Dear "Unlucky": Send me your name and address and I will recommend some homes for unwed mothers in your area. Do not delay because most homes can accept you only if you apply eight weeks (or more) before your delivery date. Having had this experience before doesn't matter. Your local Legal Aid Society can tell you what your rights are if you can't afford a lawyer.

Dear Abby: My sister's daughter will be 17 soon. Here is a girl who is vain, selfish, rude, irresponsible and who never speaks a kind word to her mother. The girl has no respect for grown-ups and it is almost impossible to reason with her. My sister gives her everything she asks for without the slightest resistance. This situation irritates me no end. What is your advice?

HER UNCLE

Dear Uncle: Don't blame the girl for her offensive mannerisms. Where was your sister when her daughter's character and personality were forming? After you have answered that question, don't dwell on it or you'll be smoldering more and enjoying it less.

Dear Abby: I hope "PATIENT" will not be too disappointed when, after waiting nine years for that married man who will marry her "when all his children have become 21 years of age," she is told that he is sorry, but he can't marry her as promised. One excuse will be that his wife is "not well," and he can't afford to upset her with a divorce.

Another will be that his children are at the marrying age now and divorced parents might hurt their chances. Another will be that she deserves a "younger" man. I could fill your column with those excuses, because I have heard them all. "Waited 14 Years For Nothing"

Confidential to "Stupid Question" in Gulfport: No question is "stupid" if it is asked in earnest. The answer to your question (which is far from stupid), is simply this: Premarital sex is wrong because it's a fraud. It promises that which it cannot fulfill.

Poverty Bill Is Signed Into a Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today the $947.5-million anti-poverty bill intended to improve living conditions for millions of Americans.

The ceremony climaxed a long fight for the most important piece of legislation originating in the Johnson administration after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The President gave it highest priority on his 1964 program behind the civil rights and tax-cut bills.

Sponsors said it would supplement the civil rights measure because many of the beneficiaries would be low-income Negro families and jobless Negro youths.

The poverty measure wraps up a bundle of programs designed to give jobs to idle youth, help low-income families get off relief and provide literacy and job training.

Some of these, such as the Youth Conservation Corps, had been pushed in previous sessions but never cleared both branches of Congress.

The new law is an authorization measure. Johnson already has asked Congress to appropriate the $947.5 million in a supplemental money bill.

The authorizations are for fiscal 1965 which ends next June 30. If the program is to continue beyond that date, Congress will have to vote new allotments.

Some sponsors of the measure at the Capitol privately expressed doubts as to how effective it could be in the trial period ahead.

Many Republicans argued it was a politically inspired measure which would make little dent on poverty.

However, Sargent Shriver,

Bigwigs of Union Stick With Hoffa

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Teamsters Union executive council says it will stick by President James R. Hoffa while he appeals two convictions on federal charges.

A statement issued by the council Thursday after a closed session said Hoffa was innocent until he has exhausted his legal rights and that the union would do nothing to deprive him of these rights.

The statement did not say what would happen if the convictions are upheld.

Hoffa said the statement was "very gratifying to me. It is positive, living proof of no dissension in this union."

Harold Gibbons, who resigned last December as a top personal aide to Hoffa but remained as a union vice president, read the statement to newsmen. He said he saw no significance in the omission of any declaration of confidence.

The meeting was the first for the council since Hoffa was convicted of attempted jury tampering in Chattanooga, Tenn., and of conspiracy to defraud the Teamsters pension fund in Chicago. He has been sentenced to a total of 13 years.

Hoffa said the statement had nothing to do with the controversy about who is going to pay his legal expenses. He said he expected that issue to be settled in court. More than 500 rank-and-file members have filed suit seeking recovery of union money spent for Hoffa's defense.

The executive council statement said, "We recognize that the welfare of this union must of necessity take precedence over the personal interests of any single individual in it."

"However, there are larger obligations upon us, and one of these is to extend to each individual his fullest constitutional rights as a citizen and a member."

"We therefore subscribe to the firm belief that general president James R. Hoffa should be afforded his full rights to appeal his convictions in the lower court, and we insist that he not be deemed guilty until he has exhausted these appeal rights, which are granted to all citizens."

"Accordingly, we wish to take this means to assure our membership and the general public that no action will be taken to deprive him of such rights in any way."

Soviet Doorbells Under Attack

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet doorbells are under attack. Even when not ringing, they use up all the power that can be generated by a normal hydroelectric station, a reader writes Izvestia, the government paper.

The reader said that he has discovered that all Soviet doorbells are equipped with tiny transformers which constantly use power.

The writer said he has complained to the government, but was told the design cannot be altered.

who served as assistant to the President in drafting and advocating the program, told Congress it should reach 600,000 persons directly the first year and up to 7 million families through community action projects.

Johnson has announced Shriver will be named director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the official title of the program.

Just Easier to Get a Divorce

LONDON (AP) — A Los Angeles psychiatrist says the increasing U.S. divorce rate may be caused by easier divorce procedures, rather than a rise in unhappy marriages.

Prof. Norman Brill told the first international congress of social psychiatry, that many people used poor excuses when seeking divorce.

He claimed that interfering mothers-in-law, money problems, nagging, drinking and sexual incompatibility were danger signals, but not the basic causes of divorce. He said immaturity at the time of marriage played a big role.

Door Is Left Open for Briefings

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater left the door open today on briefing by Johnson's advisers — but said he is not going to be trapped into campaign silence about things he already knows.

"I will ask for intelligence briefings when I feel they are needed," the Republican nominee for president said Wednesday in an interview. Goldwater indicated he has no plans now to ask for such sessions.

Johnson offered intelligence briefings last April to all the Republican contenders for his presidential nomination.

Goldwater rejected the offer. He said secret briefings could stifle legitimate campaign debate.

But he said then that if he won the Republican nomination he would expect the administration to provide "the regular briefings made available to other candidates in the past."

The Arizona senator coupled his remarks Wednesday on administration briefings with a new slap at an old campaign target, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

He accused the Pentagon chief of making public top secret information "that I have held respect for" in challenging Goldwater's statements on defense matters.

Goldwater told newsmen his early campaign speeches are going to be aimed in large measure at clearing up what he views as wrong impressions left by the Republican primary campaign.

He said Govs. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York — his chief rivals for the nomination — "have done me more harm than Johnson could ever do me."

The senator said his early campaign speeches will be designed in part to straightening out incorrect impressions about his views on war and peace, income taxes, Social Security and other issues.

"Impressions arising from what Scranton and Rockefeller said about you?" a reporter asked.

"Yes," the senator said. "It was learned Goldwater views Scranton as his logical successor as Republican standard bearer should he lose in November by a wide margin."

Goldwater was said to feel that if he loses by a slim margin, he could well get another shot at the presidency himself four years from now.

During 1960, most major fires in U.S. coast almost $325 million, a record high.

MOLDING MINDS

Through good books the sages of the ages may speak to the children of this age. Good books are antidotes for juvenile delinquency and for adult delinquency. Good books increase our joys, soften our sorrows, ennoble our friendships, enlarge our ideals, refine our ambitions, guide our energies, feed our souls. They are companions in loneliness, friends in trouble, tools for work and guides in wayfaring. The church and the church library offer you books that will keep your boys from being crooks. Books help mold minds.
